

Creative Therapist - Jordan

Your chance to change the lives of children effected by abuse with creative therapy.

The Jordan River Foundation (JRF) based in Amman is recognised internationally as an agent for positive change and social and economic wellbeing. Its main focus areas include protecting the rights of children and empowering individuals and communities.

The organisation seeks a suitably qualified social worker - creative therapy for an 18-month assignment to build the capacity of local staff to assist abused/at-risk children.

To be considered for this role you will have:

- Social Work, Psychology or related qualifications
- A qualification and/or certificate in creative therapies
- Extensive experience working with children and families

Arabic language skills and experience utilising creative therapy with abused children are highly desirable.

You will be supported by Australian Volunteers International with airfares, accommodation, briefing and orientation, health and travel insurance, living allowance and ongoing support throughout the assignment,

Applications close 4th June 2008

To apply for this role or to obtain a full assignment description, please visit www.australianvolunteers.com/work or contact Erika Drury on 03 9279 1729 or Email edrury@australianvolunteers.com